MENTALIST RADIESTHESIA

In our first module, we will study mentalist dowsing. Not the classic dowsing, because in the classic Dowsing we depend on devices to make the energy measurements, in the mentalist dowsing, we depend on our intentions and psyche.

The word Radiesthesia is composed of two terms: Radius, which originates from the Latin and means radiation or lightning and Aisthesis, of Greek origin that expresses sensation or sensitivity.

According to Ricardo Faeraman, Dowsing expresses the sensitivity of radiation, that is, the art of measuring energy.

It is possible to detect and measure the subtle energies through specific devices.

It is known that the dowsing capacity is based on a suprasensory (and unconscious) faculty inherent in all human beings, which allows the assimilation of subtle energies through the bodies of individuals.

Dowsing is a science that identifies, ascertains and localizes all types of energetic manifestations. It works in order to detect diseases, hidden objects, adequate food and medicines, as well as to identify possible energy wastes in the human body, at a physical, mental or more subtle level.

Dowsing, like Radionics, takes into account what is most widespread today, which is the fact that everything (living or not) in the Universe is energy, therefore, it receives and emits energy all the time, based on Physics Quantum, that is, it vibrates at its own frequency, giving rise to the most varied types of radiation, at a specific point or in combination, and they can interfere with the vibration of the other.

In this sense, the energy field emanated by anything that exists in the Universe has different characteristics (be it water, wood, metal, healthy organ, diseased organ, etc.).

The human body is formed by a gigantic number of atoms and molecules, with several interrelationships within the systems and organs, which at first must be in balance and functioning in a harmonic way.

However, we are often exposed to harmful radiation for long periods, planetary, electromagnetic, telluric energies etc. (examples: high voltage networks, microwaves, satellites, TV, electrical installations, radio waves, personal energies), which can generate various imbalances .

In this sense, dowsing and radionics work in order to reconstitute the natural vibration and harmonize human life.

Explaining what “telluric” means, from the Latin Tellus is land. Telluric is an electric current that moves underground or across the sea.

It is the result of natural causes and presents a complex pattern. It has a very low frequency, which spreads over large areas or close to the Earth's surface.

These telluric networks were located by Ernst Hartmann, in the 1950s, when the principles of different radiation that interfered in the planet Earth were established.

Dowsing is the science that allows contact with these energies, through the sensitivity and perception of the dowser.

This energy field is formed by the exhalation of energies from absolutely everything in the Universe, with different degrees of emission.

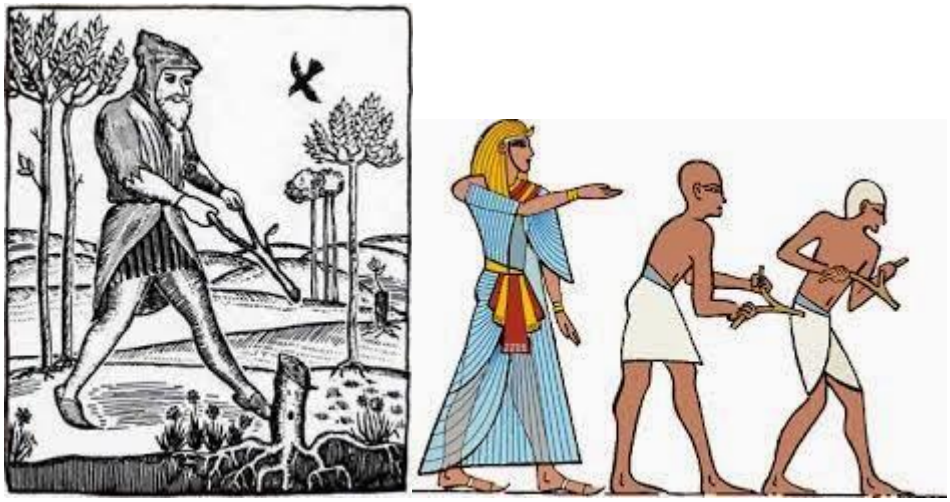

Within this reasoning, for example, the energy emanating from water is different from the energy exhaled by lead, which allows us to conclude according to this understanding, that the emission of energy from a certain healthy organ in the body is different from the energy propagation of that same organ sick.

It is aIntegrative and Complementary Therapy. The difference of Dowsing in relation to Traditional Medicine is the fact that it can perform diagnostics at the energy level, in the subtle planes, before they manifest themselves in the physical body. This is due to the use of the suprasensory ability of the touch, in order to access vibratory patterns in the most varied frequencies, which are almost undetectable.

According to Antônio Rodrigues, in the book Radiestesia Prática e Ilustrada, today raised to the category of science. Dowsing is an ancient practice created by the human being in view of the need to discover the hidden.

Until the beginning of the 20th century, it was called dowsing and was defined as an empirical practice and also as another form of divination. Rabdomancy is a word of Greek origin (rabdos, rod and mantia, divination), that is, divination by means of the rod. This was the old denomination of today called dowsing.

Rabdomancy was used in the search for water sources and metal deposits and, around 1688, it started to be used in the search for criminals.

The Chinese already used dowsing two thousand years before our era.

A wooden bas-relief from 147 BC represents the Chinese emperor Ta-Yu of the Hsia dynasty in 2205 BC, who had a reputation as one of the greatest water prospectors in Antiquity, holding an instrument similar to a tuning fork.

The caption accompanying the figure tells us: "Yu, from the Hsia dynasty, was famous for his knowledge of underground currents and water sources; he also knew the Yin principle and, if necessary, built dams".

In Egypt, objects were discovered that bear a striking resemblance to the pendulums used today; even one of them gave rise to what is known today as the Egyptian Pendulum.

Today Dowsing is widely used in therapeutic work, to map the Interagent's energy field, groups or environments, to have a deeper view of the situation and thus assist in a more effective way.

In this course we will use 4 dowsing measurement boards, plus support lists to assist in the work, where we can use for dowsing research and akashic reading, a subject that we will study in the second module.

BASIC MATERIAL FOR THE USE OF BOARDS

To work with the boards, we only need a pendulum, it can be any material you have an affinity with.

Preferably light, with a chain or string that you can have at least 4 fingers between your hands and the pendulum, as seen in the pendulum module.

HOW TO PREPARE FOR USE OF THE BOARDS

According to the HeartMath Institute, which has been doing research on the heart for more than 25 years, it was discovered that our heart has a brain and it is the first organ to form, connecting everything else in the body to the heart. It is also explained that the electromagnetic power of our heart is much superior to that of our mental, which makes the coherent attunement with our heart much more effective for manifesting new realities through feeling, than using the visualization power of our mental alone. .

According to studies by Drunvalo Melksedeck, author of books known as the secret of the flower of life and living in the heart, through the field of our heart we have the power to create new realities through unity, not duality, as we create through the mental.

When we intuitively unite the power of our heart with our mental, we establish a coherent bridge of attunement of the portal of the heart through feeling, with the visualization of our mental power, which makes our co-creation power much more effective, governed by the power of the love.

According to countless Ancestral peoples, within our heart there is our sacred heart, the universe that dwells within us, the divine spark, the source of all life. What we have spent our whole life looking for outside has always been within us, and it is through the sacred space of all life, which dwells within us, that we have the greatest power of creation.

When we are in tune with the source of all life that lives inside and outside of us, it is that we express purely our love, innocence and our I Am Presence.

The Essenes still teach a simple and profound practice, practiced by Jesus, where he attuned to the Source of creation through breathing intuiting the breath of life, entering the space of the heart, and from the Source that dwells within our heart, he nourished, meditated and served.

This practice is also used by several indigenous peoples, spread across the world for millennia, where anchoring is established through breathing and love, with Gaia, our Presence I am, the Central Sun, becoming a rainbow bridge between Heaven and Earth , Human and Divine, entering the sacred space of our heart, the universe that lives within our Sacred space of the heart, and from there, feeling one with all creation, we are ready to work through love, the greater good, the infinite and inexhaustible source of life, abundance, light and unconditional love.

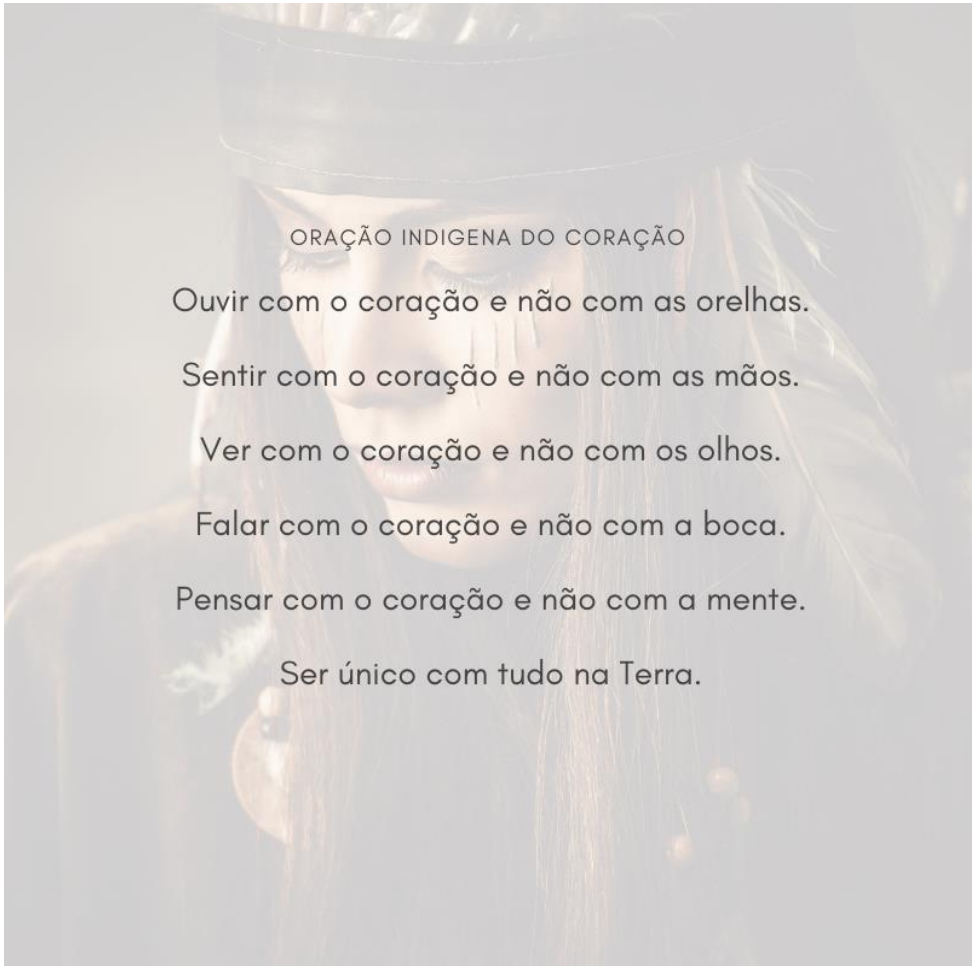

According to the Ancestral peoples, women have their energy of love and co-creation of the heart expanded, when their womb and heart are tuned, becoming one.

It is no coincidence that women in these peoples are seen as a source of life, love, lightness and compassion, which through love, intensifies intuition, thus tuning in, their power of love and creation, with their mental power of visualization.

There are countless preparation rituals, you can use whatever you feel most comfortable with, but within the studies I have done, this is the simplest and deepest way to be in the energy of your heart and ready to work in tune with the Source of Creation , with The Divine Father and the Great Mother Sophia.

In the complementary materials, you will find the way of meditating on Jesus in the letters of Christ (page 8.), ancestral prayers and suggestions on how to prepare for your workday.

But never forget, we are the source, we are sacred, we are divine love.

HOW TO MEDITATE (www.cartasdecristobrasil.com.br)

"This text was composed with parts extracted from Charter 8, in order to provide a quick information for those who wish to start meditation on the content of the Charters, since the beginning of the study of them. We emphasize here the simplicity of the proposed ritual, accessible to all. The focus is on sincere disposition and perseverance. "

There is no need for complicated procedures.

"When meditating, adopt a position that is most comfortable. You don't have to do physical contortions. Rest and relax. Tell yourself to relax and release your limbs, including your head, neck and face, to a state of deep release.

I want to impress on you the idea that meditation should - finally - be as simple as slipping into sleep. The purpose of meditation is to enable your entire consciousness to move beyond the boundaries of intellect and reason. (...)

Before you start meditation, prepare yourself fully understanding that you are about to make contact with the "DIVINE CONSCIOUSNESS" both in your consciousness and transcending it - thus SHE is also out there and around you. Visualize exactly what that means.
Remember, at all times, that you will be tuning in to what you THINK.

Your thoughts are "rays of light" making contact with what you seek. Remember that each "thought" has its own vibrational frequency in consciousness. Believe me, know this, because that is true. The more spiritual the thought, the higher the vibrational frequencies. The "forms of Consciousness" expressed in words are not visible, but are "specific entities of being". They have the life of consciousness within them. They are magnetized by similar "forms of consciousness". Like attracts like. Think "dog" and visualize what it means and your thoughts are attuned to the canine species.
Think "UNIVERSAL CONSCIOUSNESS" or "DIVINE LIFE" with an understanding of what that means - and your thoughts will be directed to "UNIVERSAL CONSCIOUSNESS" - "DIVINE LIFE". (...)

First, before attempting to enter a meditative state, memorize the following prayer, so that the words become your own. When you are perfectly relaxed, begin your meditation with this prayer. Say it slowly and visualize the meaning of each word to be able to enter the awareness of the word and allow the energy of the awareness of the word to enter the depths of your being. While saying this prayer, your eyes should be closed and your gaze raised towards the eyebrows.

"FATHER - MOTHER - LIFE, you are my life, my constant support, my health, my protection, the perfect satisfaction of all my needs and my highest inspiration.
I ask you to reveal your true reality to me. I know it is YOUR WILL that I am fully enlightened and that I can better receive the awareness of Your Presence in me and around me. I believe and know that this is possible. I believe that You protect me and keep me in perfect LOVE. I know that my final purpose is to EXPRESS YOU.

When I speak to you, I know that You are perfectly receptive to me, for You are the UNIVERSAL LOVING INTELLIGENCE that wonderfully conceived this world and made it visible.
I know that when I ask You to speak to me, I send a ray of light of consciousness into Your Divine Consciousness and that, when I listen, YOU will enter my human consciousness and come closer and closer to my spirit and my heart more and more receptive. I entrust my being and my life to Your care ”.

Each time you say and visualize this prayer, it will create a form of spiritual awareness that will become stronger and higher in vibratory frequencies as the true meaning of the prayer deepens in your mind and heart and your perceptions. rise.

After prayer, relax more and more deeply and let your mind empty as much as possible. If thoughts intrude, gently recite "Life - Divine" or "father - mother - life" to yourself and quiet your mind again. After many months of sincere meditation, you may feel that your body suddenly shudders like a person who is falling asleep and suddenly wakes up. If so, be grateful, as your consciousness is penetrating the barriers of your previously created forces of consciousness that encapsulate your soul.

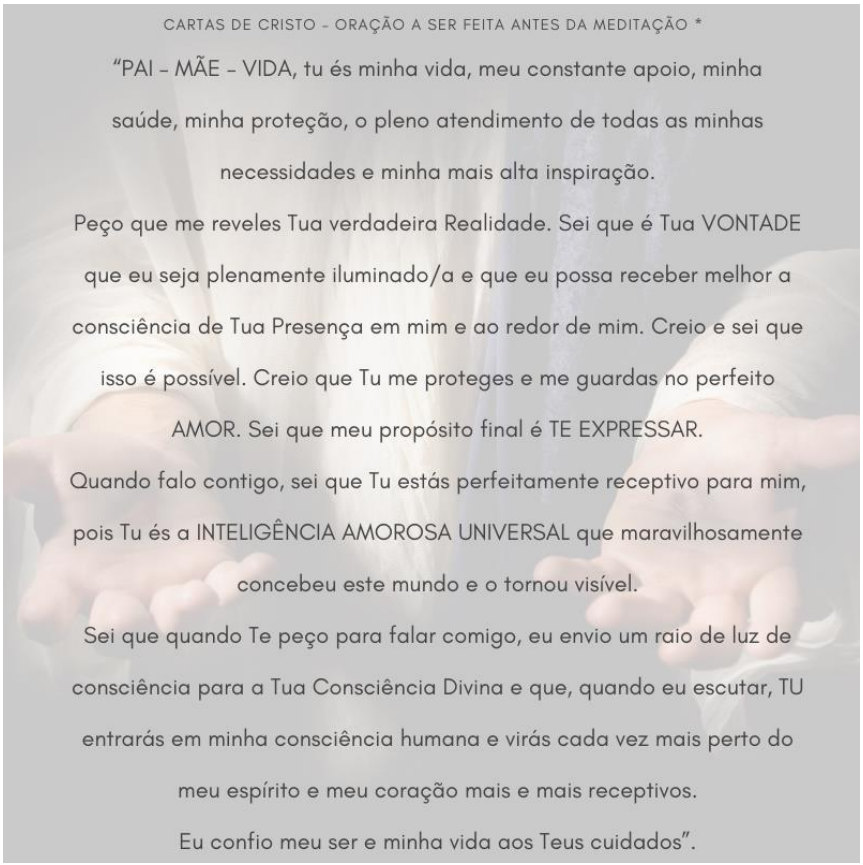

When you feel that you are entering a different state of consciousness, deep, so deep that you barely breathe, know that you are beginning to reach your goal. At the end of the meditation always give thanks with joy and recognition.
Remember that nothing you can think, say or do in any way can reduce everything that is "conscience - father - mother - life". However, any disbelief will form a barrier between you and the parent - mother - life.

I want to warn you that when you are trying to quiet your mind and thoughts, you may feel uncomfortable, physically uncomfortable and even distressed. This is because - at first - you will hit the black wall of your own "conscience" and this can be extremely disconcerting - even painful. Bless the experience and ask "father life" to come into your consciousness the next time and you will hear. Then get up and leave the experience behind.

When you notice that you are finally entering the silence, rest serenely, knowing that you have now entered what could be called "the holy of holies", as you are finally managing to connect with "father - mother - life" in you. It will take time for this highly spiritual experience of Silence to become a daily routine. Remember that you have the egoic baggage of a lifetime to undo and dissolve.

Whatever you perceive or feel during meditation, when you come out of it expect to feel a difference in your life. Remember that expectation is a form of "awareness" and that by having an "expectation" you are paving the way for what "expects" to be attracted to your experience, whatever it is you need or need. occupying.

If you do not feel any new lightness of mind, despite your sincere expectations, do not deny the changes or doubt the possibility that they will occur. Remember that your consciousness is electromagnetic, the same substance as your physical body and that is the basis of all your life experiences. Keep waiting - while you do this you are building the power, the energy of your "expectations - forms of consciousness" that will attract the manifestation of everything you are waiting for. The "Consciousness - Father - Mother - Life" can only be attracted to your individual conscience by faith, by the sincere expectation and by the availability to open yourself to the purification of your magnetic - emotional "connection - rejection" impulse.

OBJECTIVE OF USING THESE BOARDS IN RAINBOW FLOWER'S WORK

The reason why he intends to use the boards, is to understand better than areas of the interacting environment, they are in need of prana, balance, strengthening and harmonization.
The goal is not to enter the dramas, as there is no solution vibrating in the same energy. The distortions are in a denser energy layer, and the solutions are in subtle and lighter layers.

So the idea is to find through the attunement with our I Am Presence and the I Am Presence I belong to the Interagent, always respecting free will, to identify the areas of Multidimensional Being that are in shortage of love and prana, to fill in again, because where they live love and light do not inhabit distortion, and thus, bringing your interactant to a new vibration, assist in a light way to identify patterns that are bringing the dysfunctions, and assist in making new choices and reestablishing your resonant vibration pattern with your Essence of light.

Mother Kuan Yin, one of the Ladies of Karma, explains that Karma is always about ourselves, never about others, about what we blame ourselves and others, what we don't let go of and keep repeating the same pattern of suffering.

Mother Tara Verde says that these patterns of Vibration prevent us from seeing all the love and purity that Dwells Within us, and prevents us from living the paradise on Earth that begins within our heart and reverberates to material through us, and so we create the patterns of individual and collective hell, which we can change at any time, when we vibrate again in love, and not in the absence of it.

With these boards we will identify where the patterns of lack of love are, and bring back to our true essence of Joy and love, understanding that duality is the dance of life, there is no movement without duality, but we need to learn to dance centering our shadow and light, for a more harmonious experience.

Use of dowsing graphics on boards:

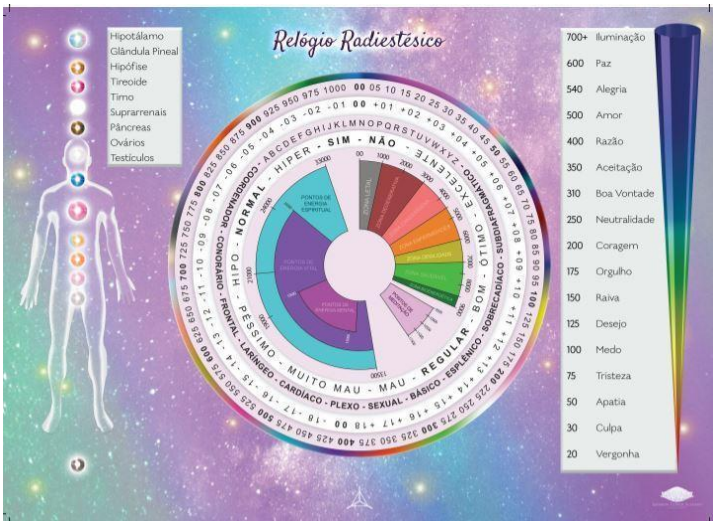

Radiesthesic charts are instruments that make it possible to restore the balance of physical, mental and subtle energies of individuals, animals, plants and others.
Also, they are able to prevent and cure diseases and future disorders.

It is important to note that both dowsing itself and the graphics used in dowsing are very old, with historical references dating back to a long time before Christ.

There are several types of graphics in Radiesthesia, however, most of them present semicircular or geometric shapes, each one with its functions.

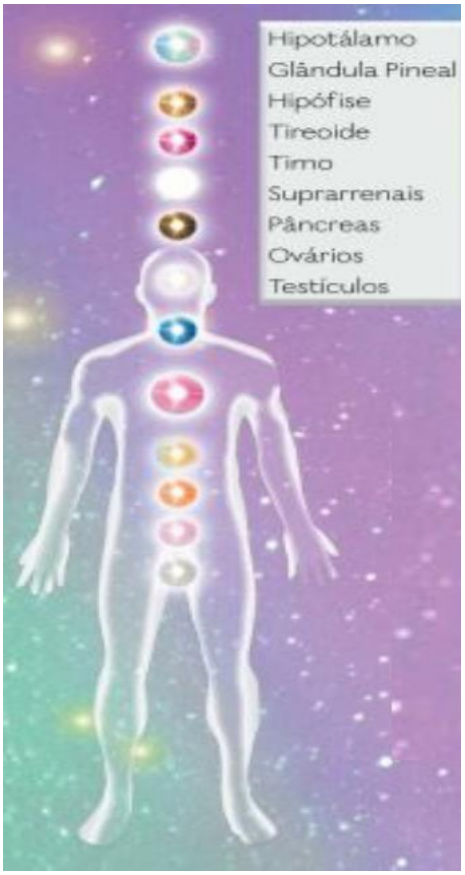

ELEMENTS OF BOARDS

BOARD 1

1 - DIVINE HUMAN IN THE STANDARD OF 13 CHAKRAS:

Our bodies have 144,000 chakras, in this Chart we will be using the new pattern of the main chakras with the awakening of the Atlantean enlightenment chakras, based on the studies of Diana Cooper, and complementary material on the galactic chakra System based on the Egyptian Studies. When the Planet dropped in frequency after the Golden Age of Lemuria and Atlantis, our chakras evolved, now we are realigning ourselves with a system of 12 chakras + 1 Chakra from God.

The 13 Chakras

1. Earth Star Chakra: This chakra maintains your potential for this life and enables you to be who you really can be. Here you anchor your I AM or Monad presence when you are ready. This chakra reaches the aspect of ascended Neptune called Toutillay, so the Golden Age wisdom codes of Atlantis and Lemuria can flow back into your Earth Star chakra. Black, gray and silver color.

2. Basic Chakra: When this chakra is anchored, you have complete faith that the universe will take care of your daily needs, and can live in security, harmony, trust, joy and bliss. It reaches the ascended aspect of Saturn called Quishy, then the codes of spiritual discipline flow to its base and accelerate its ascension. Bright Platinum Color

3. Sacral Chakra: This chakra is about superior sexuality, peace, grace and family and harmonious relationships. When fully anchored, send a link to Sirius's ascending aspect called Lakumay, so that codes of pure and transcended love can flow into your sacral chakra. Soft Pink Color.

4. Navel Chakra: This chakra anchors when you understand the oneness with all creatures and becomes welcoming and inclusive. This is a powerful manifestation chakra. When fully anchored, it sends a wire of light to connect with the fully ascended Sun. Download the codes of unity and acceptance, and allow you to access the wisdom of beings on other planets. Bright and vibrant orange color.

5. Solar Plexus Chakra: When the solar plexus chakra is fully fifth dimensional, you recognize its true value and feel confident and powerful. Your fears dissolve and you connect with your deepest wisdom. Archangel Uriel helps you link your chakra at the center of planet Earth, its ascended aspect called Pilchay, so that you can access the keys of cosmic wisdom through your low heart, home of the divine spark within your heart. Deep golden and rainbow color.

6. Heart Chakra: When your heart chakra is wide open, it fills your chest with unconditional love, compassion, empathy, love for animals and kindness. There are 33 petals in the center of the heart, each containing a lesson that you need to learn before opening, and expresses the divine flower of creation, from the womb of the Divine Mother, through the Rose of your heart as a micro of the macro. Archangel Chamuel helps you connect your heart to the ascending planet Venus, which is full of love from the Source and ascends the light of your gland and Timo chakra, an important vital energy center and your Inner Child. Pure white color radiant and sparkling pink.

Throat chakra: This chakra is about superior communication, honesty, trust and integrity; each word has the power and light of an ascended master. Archangel Michael allows you to connect the light from your throat chakra to the ascending aspect of Mercury, Telephony. You will attract spiritual gifts from the Golden Age of Atlantis and Lemuria, and you will be able to communicate with all beings. Sparkling Royal Blue Color.

8. Third Eye Chakra: The third eye chakra is a crystal ball. The qualities you have here are clairvoyance, enlightenment, healing, wisdom and abundance. Archangel Raphael helps you connect to the ascended aspect of Jupiter called Jumbay, allowing you a broader perspective and vision. You can download the keys to cosmic abundance and access the wisdom of the Golden Age of Atlantis and Lemuria. Crystal Color.

Crown chakra: This chakra allows you to access the keys to mastery, wisdom, enlightenment and universal connection. It is in tune with the ascended aspect of Uranus, called Curonay, which transmits the energies of divine transformation and enlightenment. When this chakra is open and the Star Portal chakra is anchored, The highest divine energies flow into your crown. Crystal color with pale golden sparkling rays.

10. Causal chakra: Your causal chakra is your own moon, containing the qualities of the higher divine feminine like love, cooperation, nutrition, a broader perspective and a sense of unity. It is effectively a portal to the spirit world and Higher realms and the archangel Christiel sends his light, descending over the Moon to connect him to angels, Enlightened Masters, unicorns and dragons. In Atlantis, people stretched their heads and the causal chakra was housed there, just behind the rest of the chakra column. You can still see pictures of the ancient Egyptians with this elongated head shape. Milky white color.

11. Soul star chakra: This chakra contains the record of your soul's journey, and the knowledge and wisdom that you have accumulated through your experiences on many planes of existence. It contains the lessons you need to learn and your ancestral history. Archangel Mariel helps you connect with the ascended aspect of the planet of Orion, so that you can download the keys to the wisdom of your own soul. Magenta Pink Color.

12. Stargate: When your stargate chakra is anchored, it opens like a chalice of the Source of love and light. It is the energy chakra of the Divine Masculine and the power of the peaceful spiritual warrior. Archangel Metatron helps this chakra connect to the ascended aspect of Mars called Nigellay, which shows codes of spiritual leadership in everyone who attunes to this chakra. Golden orange color.

13. Chakra of God: This Chakra tunes you with a higher frequency directly connected to the Central Sun, manifesting your unity with your Super Soul and thus, with the Creation Source and the Divine Mother's Womb with greater depth, unifying your heart and your whole being with the frequency pure diamond and rainbow, manifesting the union of all our centers, attuning with humility and Mastery to our Divine Sovereignty, reminding in essence that we are Angels walking on Earth, one with the whole in love and light, we are all one without distinction . Pure White Color Diamond and Rainbow.

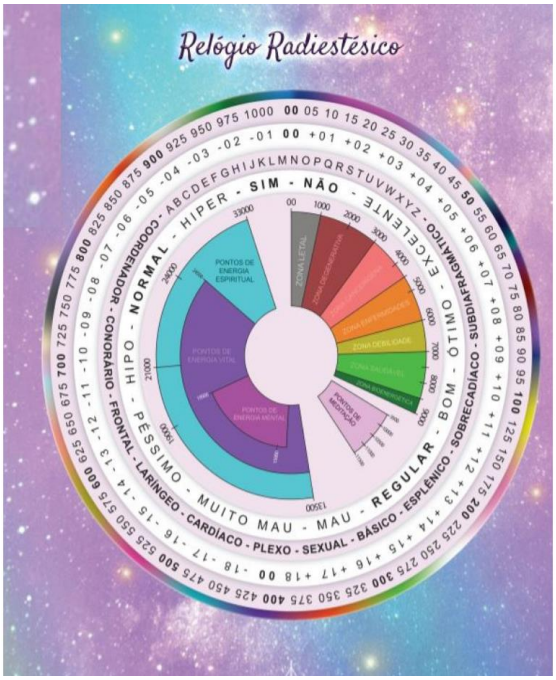

2 - RADIESTHETIC CLOCK

Basic clock for measuring energy through the pendulum.

The Bovis Biometer is already attached, and practically everything that is related to energy in this watch can be measured. It has numbering associated with phantom dimensions and original dimensions.

The Bovis Biometer is a measuring instrument in the shape of a ruler, created by the French dowser Antoine Bovis and, later, improved by the French engineer Simonetto.

It is used to perform dowsing measurements in order to research the vibratory frequency of a person, a system, an organ or a location.

* Check Lists of Beliefs and negative dimensions, attached in module 2.

3 - HAWKINS SCALE

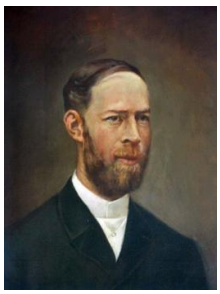

In physics, the frequency is a quantity that indicates the number of events in a given period of time (cycles, turns, oscillations, etc.).

We can also measure the elapsed time of each oscillation, this measurement is called a period.

The frequency generally to oscillations of some property, as for example thechain alternating electrical.

The frequency is represented by the letter f, and its unit of measurement is hertz (Hz), which is equivalent to the number of cycles per second, so if we say that a wave vibrates 60 Hz it means that it oscillates 60 times per second.

The frequency measurement unit (Hertz) pays homage to the great scientist Heinrich Hertz, a German physicist who was interested in machinery from an early age, which made him enroll in the engineering course, but at the age of 21 his predilection for research and production science made him choose physics. At the age of 26 Heinrich proved what Maxwell had long predicted, electromagnetic radiation, how they spread and how to control their frequency. For this he created the Hertz antenna receiver and UHF wave emitter.

Heinrich also has other properties of electromagnetism, such as speed, polarization, refraction and reflection.

Hawkins' model centers the levels of consciousness around the fundamental values / keys of human life, capable of carrying the human being through all levels, up to the level of enlightenment and that of non-duality.

It was more than 30 years of academic research. A life dedicated to understanding and mapping the transformations caused by spirituality - in the person and in the collective.

Excerpt from the book “Power vs. Force “:

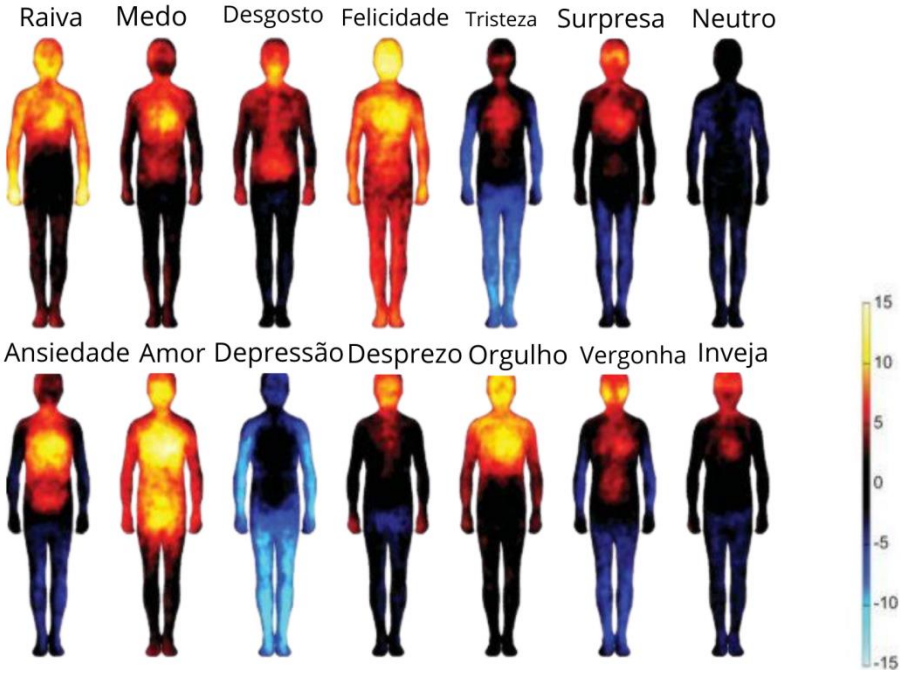

“Although only 15% of the world's population is above the critical 200 level of consciousness, the collective strength of that 15% has the weight to counteract the negativity of the remaining 85% of the world population. Because the force scale advances logarithmically, a simple Avatar at a consciousness level of 1,000 can, in fact, completely counterbalance the collective negativity of all mankind.

An individual who lives and vibrates in the energy of optimism and the willingness to not judge others (level 300) will counterbalance the negativity of 90,000 people who are calibrated at the lowest levels of strength.

An individual who lives and vibrates in the energy of pure love for life (level 500) will counterbalance the negativity of 750,000 people who are calibrated at the lowest levels of strength.

An individual who lives and vibrates in the energy of enlightenment, grace and infinite peace (level 600) will counterbalance the negativity of 10 million people who are calibrated at the lowest levels of strength (approximately 22 of these sages are alive today).

An individual who lives and vibrates in the energy of grace, of pure spirit beyond the body, in a world of non-duality and complete unity (level 700), will counterbalance the negativity of 70 million people who are calibrated at lower levels of strength (approximately 10 of these sages are alive today). BOARD 2

Spiritual diagnostic board: This board aims to measure the interactant's spiritual field, checking if it happened by physical or energetic origin, which time lines and energies are influencing the distortions that are being worked on.

Elements:

Fire - Joy, transmutation, cleanliness, unity, consciousness, wisdom, impulse, movement, action;

Earth - Grounding, balance, base, balance of concerns, being present in your body, conscious thinking, conclusion, organization;

Water - movement, sexuality, sensuality, balance of sadness, emotional healing, fluidity, adaptation, surrender;

Air - Balance of the mental field, ways of thinking, connection with spirituality, discernment, evaluation, reformulation;

Ether -It means Prana, the union of all elements;

Metal - Surrender, balance of instinctive reactions, mourning;

Wood - Planning for decision making, anger management.

Alchemical Elements:

Alchemy explains that everything that exists is always based on 3 elements:

Sulfur or Sulfur: It means the soul and the conscience, the movement of contraction. Lower body;

Salt: It means the body, the solid, the matter, the stabilizing movement. Upper body.

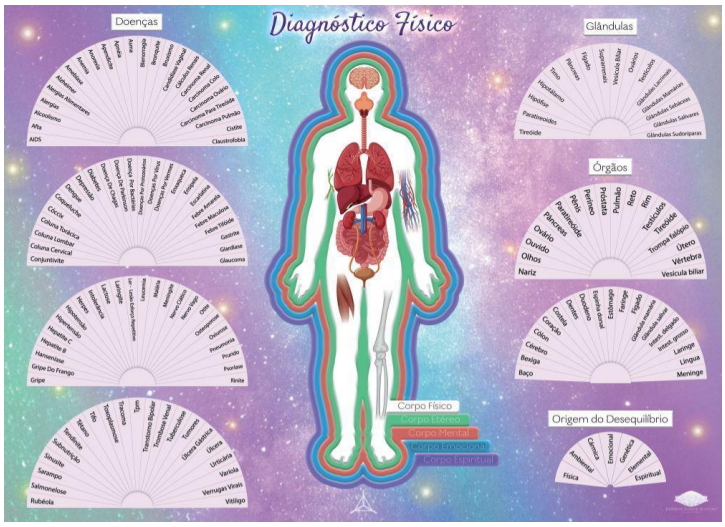

Mercury: It means the vital principle, prana, expansion. Head.

Miasmas: Diseases in the astral field. They feed, evolve from our alchemical elements, the sulfuric miasmas are found in the lower part of the body, the salinicis, in the trunk, and those that are already in the head, in the mental, are the mercurial miasmas.

Blocking chips and devices:

They are holographic devices used by Fallen Stars or Brothers who are working in distortion in the phantom dimensions, and when we are in states of victims and fragile field, we open the way for manipulation devices to keep us in the dramas and thus feed the phantom dimensions.

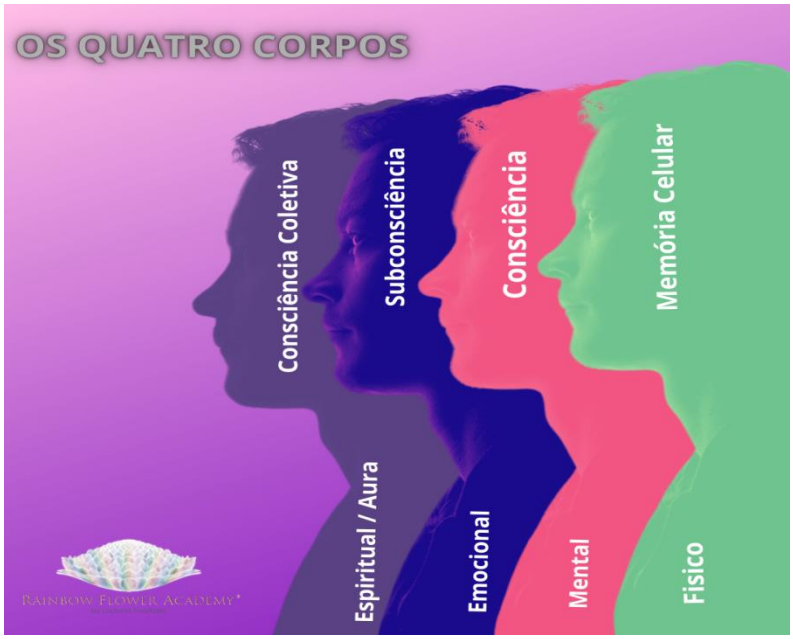

BOARD 3

Physical Field Diagnostic Board: Board to measure imbalances in the energy field of the physical body and check the origins of the imbalances.

YOUR ETHERIC BODY - 4 Levels

You have what is known as a four-body system: physical, mental, emotional and spiritual.

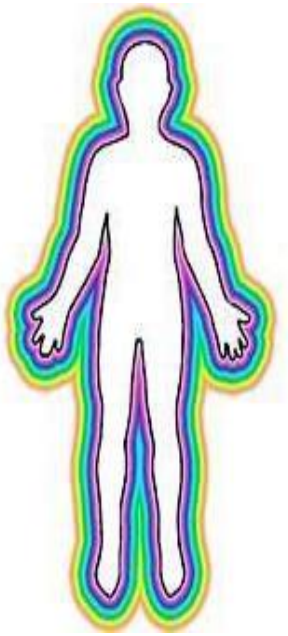

Everything starts in the spiritual and goes down through the mental, then emotional, and finally becomes physical.

* In this photo we have represented the 4 minds and 4 bodies, by Integrative Natural Wellness Associates LLC

Your body etheric is about 1 "(2.5 cm) away from your body.

This is a sheath around your body, known as your etheric counterpart.

Your body emotional it is between 3 ”and 6” (7.5-15 cm) beyond the body.

This reflects the state of your feelings and emotions.

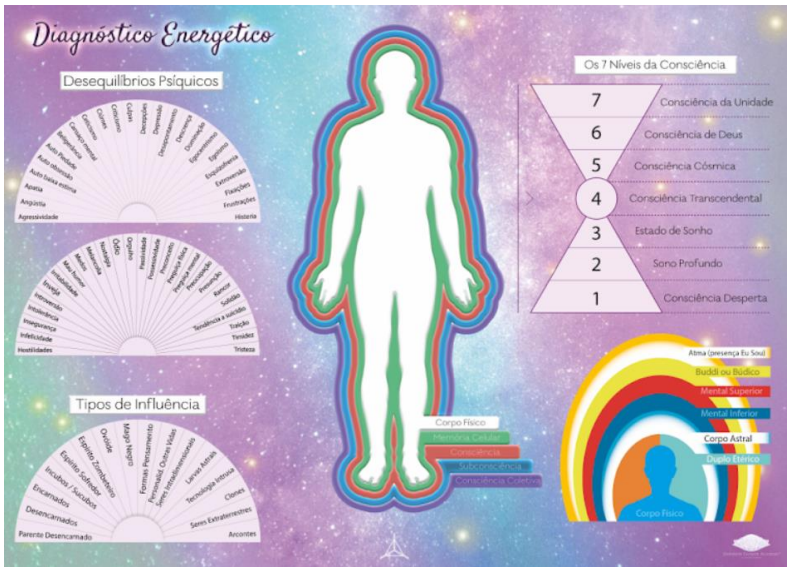

Your body mental it has about 1 foot (30cm) beyond the body and it reflects your thoughts.

Your body spiritual it is usually 3 feet (1m) from the physical body, although it extends much further out in exceptionally evolved people.

BOARD 4

Energy Diagnostic Board:
Board with the intention of researching the distortions of the emotional, mental, psyche, levels of consciousness, checking psychic imbalances, types of influence, health of the auric field and levels of consciousness.

The 7 levels of Consciousness by Richard Barrett:

1 - Survival - Feeling safe and protected in the world;

2 - Relationships - Have a feeling of love and belonging;

3 - Self-esteem - Have a feeling of personal value;

4 - Transformation - Becoming more of what you really are by releasing your authentic self and aligning your ego with your soul;

5 - Internal cohesion - Finding meaning in your life by aligning yourself with your passion and purpose and creating a vision for the future;

6 - Make a difference - Realize your sense of purpose by cooperating with others for mutual benefit and fulfillment;

7 - Service - Dedicating your life to service without self-interest following your passion or purpose and vision;

The first three levels of consciousness focus on our personal self-interest - meeting our physiological, security and protective needs, our emotional needs for love and belonging and our needs to feel good about ourselves by developing a sense of pride in those who we are and a positive sense of self-esteem.

The focus of the fourth level of consciousness is on transformation - learning how to manage, dominate or release the subconscious beliefs based on fear, which keep us grounded in the initial levels of consciousness.

The top three levels of consciousness focus on our need to find meaning and purpose in our existence, realizing meaning by making a difference in the world and conducting our life for service without self-interest.

When we satisfy them, satisfaction is not extinguished. They produce deeper levels of motivation and commitment.

Mental Levels:

1 - Cellular Memory - Everything that our body, organs and DNA stored as customs, practices and personality traits. Acting not only with neurological stimuli, but with the whole body;

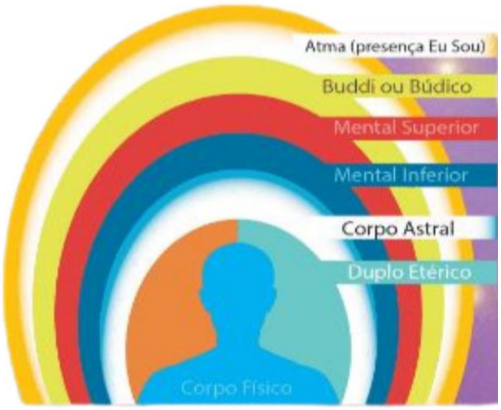

2 Consciousness: Rational Mind, everything we are aware of in existence;

3 Subconsciousness - Everything your mind has stored as truth;

4 Collective consciousness - Everything we capture and store from the collective mind.

TERMINATION OF RESEARCH

At the end of the work, intend to disconnect with the interactant and that all energies that were released through research are recycled by Mother Gaia and the cosmos transmuting into new energies and Star dust.

If you are tired or not feeling well, prioritize taking care of yourself before working. Respect for the whole begins by practicing respect for yourself, listening to your body and taking care of yourself with great love.

The Body speaks, listen to your body with all love.
